

Section 4

In this section you will find the following information about learning providers in the Highlands & Islands:

- ✘ What is LEARNINGworks?
- ✘ The contact details of learning providers in the area?
- ✘ What does the Workers Educational Association (WEA) do?

LEARNINGworks - www.learning-works.co.uk

There are a number of national websites you can use to look for courses/ learning providers, like learndirect scotland (www.learndirectscotland.com) or the ILA Scotland website (www.ilascotland.org.uk). However, if you want a website that also provides information about specific courses and providers in the Highlands & Islands, LEARNINGworks is the website is for you.

LEARNINGworks is a website which provides the latest news and information on learning services across the Highlands & Islands.

The site is user friendly and if you are looking for a course, then click on RESOURCEworks on the home page. Here you will find two course directories: one, which is the Highlands & Islands version of learndirect scotland's course directory and two, where you will find short courses and events across the region.

If you choose the first option with learndirect scotland you will be able to view a wide range of courses from training providers, further education colleges and universities across the Highlands & Islands or Scotland wide. If you choose the short course option you will be able to view topic-specific calendars of learning events/short courses across the Highlands & Islands.

Both directories allow you to search course provision by area, making it easy for you to find courses in your local area

Once you find what you are looking for and know the course or event you would like to attend, you can use the enquiry form to submit your details to the LEARNINGworks admin team who will forward your enquiry to the relevant course/event organiser.

The site also provides free short online courses, discussions topics and a range of other information relevant to learning in the Highlands & Islands.

If you have access to the internet and are looking for a course or learning provider or you just want information about what's happening with learning in the Highlands & Islands, www.learning-works.co.uk is an excellent resource to use.

Learning providers in the Highlands & Islands

The following pages provide contact information for learning providers in the Highlands & Islands. If the provider is registered for ILAs this has also been highlighted. The providers have been sorted by subject into the areas listed below to make it easier for you to identify providers in your area:

- ✠ Argyll & Bute
- ✠ Badenoch & Strathspey
- ✠ Caithness
- ✠ Inverness & Nairn
- ✠ Lochaber
- ✠ Moray
- ✠ Orkney
- ✠ Ross & Cromarty
- ✠ Shetland
- ✠ Skye & Lochalsh
- ✠ Sutherland
- ✠ Western Isles

Please Note:

This list comprises mainly of private learning providers and is not exhaustive of every learning provider in the Highlands & Islands. Details of colleges, universities, learning centres and other providers can also be found in sections 5, 6, 7 & 8 of this pack, therefore you should also consult these sections to give an overall view of the learning provision in the area. The information provided in the following pages was correct at the time of print in May 2009.

These lists of learning providers are for general information only and Scottish Union Learning cannot guarantee the quality of the service they provide.

WEA Scotland

What does the Workers' Education Association (WEA) do?

The WEA, which was founded over 100 years ago, is a leading national voluntary sector provider of community and workplace based adult learning. The Association has a long history of working with trade unions to develop worker education.

WEA Scotland has a local office at 57 Church Street Inverness and offers a range of courses across the Highlands. The following leaflets provide further details about WEA Scotland including information about:

- ✦ The range of courses WEA Scotland provide and contact details.
- ✦ The Women@work Project – a Highland-wide women's network, which provides information, learning and support for working women.

The WEA are also local providers of everyday skills courses and you can find more information about this in Section 6.

Workers' Educational Association

Throughout the year, the WEA runs classes, courses & taster workshops for adults who

- ❖ Wish to build self-confidence
- ❖ Want to learn something new or understand local issues
- ❖ Meet like minded people
- ❖ Take the first steps towards further education
- ❖ Broaden their horizons
- ❖ Brush up on ICT, communication or essential skills
- ❖ Help their organisation or trade union put education to social use

It might be just one of these reasons - or several of them!

- ❖ Whatever the reason, the WEA's informal, student centred approach to lifelong learning could be the place to start.

Learners work in small groups with an experienced tutor. Courses are inexpensive or FREE to those families in receipt of benefit.

Learning Something New

If you are interested in – for example –Building your Confidence, Returning to Learning, English for everyday use, Creative Writing, Communicating effectively, or improving Literacy & Numeracy skills etc – why not contact the WEA on 01463 – 710577

Whatever your interest – whatever you have done up until now – WEA offers a warm welcome to new learners in the community and in the workplace.

For a copy of our brochure contact the WEA office at 57 Church Street Inverness IV1 1DR, telephone 01463 710 577
or email us on inverness@weascotland.org.uk

The Workers' Educational Association is a charity registered in England and Wales (number 1112775) and in Scotland (number SC0329239) and a company limited by guarantee registered in England and Wales (number 2806910). Registered address is WEA, 3rd Floor, 70 Clifton Street, London, EC2A 4HB

The Workers' Educational Association, a national, democratic, voluntary organisation seeks to encourage access to education throughout life, especially for those adults who have experienced barriers to learning as a result of economic circumstances, social isolation, limited confidence, low self esteem or lack of educational opportunity.

The WEA Scotland's Women@Work Project (W@W) is a Highland-wide women's network, which provides information, learning and support for working women (paid and unpaid). The project helps women to understand issues, develop skills and become more able to speak out about things that matter to them at home, at work and in the community.

In the Highlands, as in other parts of the country, women are under-represented in most decision-making bodies, and in much of civic life, from local community groups to board rooms and committees. This means that an essential female perspective is often missing from important discussions affecting families, work places and society. In addition, many women face barriers which inhibit them from becoming more involved, making a valuable contribution and reaching their full potential.

influence

W@W offers regular local network meetings with topical subjects and stimulating speakers, in various locations across the Highlands. Meetings provide the opportunity for women to gather informally to explore new ideas, begin to understand themselves, learn something new and form opinions. Network participants and guest speakers present topics and ways of working which provide stimulation, food for thought and an introduction to further learning.

We aim to provide a forum to exchange ideas and opinions and to support women to share common experiences, while growing in confidence and making new contacts. The e-bulletin and website will enhance the network and link women in rural and remote areas by providing details of the latest women's issues and offering the chance to comment from their own point of view.
